Ked' nie voda, tak aspoň vietor!

Druhý deň sa niesol znamenite - v druhom prírodnom živle. Počasie, vyzerá to tak, skúša skautské hranice. Na splave AQUA Flow bol vietor taký silný, že s pomocou dobrých kamarátov vyoktil účastníkov v rafte jedného po druhom do vody. Potom sa naštastie zotavili a po návrate všetkých účastníkov bol na večernom programe slávnostný táborák.

S ohňami krásy, pravdy, sily a lásky ceremoniálne zapálenými sa pri táboráku rozprúdila zábava. Vypočuli sme si krásne pesničky od všetkých národností a potom si zaspievali ako staré aj nové klasiky, tak i pre niektorých táborákové novinky. Zábava znova trvala až do pol jedenástej a bola príhodne ukončená Gilwellským kruhom a zabezpečením ohniska.

No aj ked' to počasie nebolo ideálne, tak dalo vznik množstvu milých postrehov. Tak ešte dnešný deň v skratke.

1. Naši vedci zistili, že žemľa sa v daždi je najlepšie v predklone.
2. Ako si zlomí vodák nohu? Na futbale.
3. Vietor nám privial Talianov.
4. Keby Fox nebol tak pomalý hľadač lopát, neboli by sa stali nehody.
5. Nedivte sa patrolám, ak pijú vodu z Dunaja. Najmenej čistá voda v okolí je v hotelovom bazéne (chemicky otestované!).
6. Ak chceš počuť vtip, tak chod' za Eltonom. A bagetu a pocit bezpečia.
7. Ak vzdanie holdu, tak Luňáku! Za krásny prednes hymny na nástupe a táborácky spirit.

If not water, then at least wind!

The second day was going just perfectly - in the second natural element. The weather, it seems, is testing Scout's limits. On the AQUA Flow, the wind was so strong that, with the help of a few good friends, it pushed the participants in the raft one by one into the water. Then, fortunately, they recovered, and after the return of all participants back to the camp, a festive bonfire was on the evening program.

With the fires of beauty, truth, strength, and love ceremoniously lit, the bonfire party erupted. We listened to beautiful songs from all nationalities and then sang both old and new classics, as well as campfire novelties for some. The fun lasted again until half past eleven and was appropriately wrapped up with the Gilwell circle and the securing of the bonfire.

And even though the weather was not ideal, it gave rise to a lot of nice observations. So today, in a nutshell.

1. Our researchers found out that when raining, it is best to eat a bun bent over to the front.
2. How does a boatman break his leg? At football.
3. The wind brought the Italians to us.
4. If Fox hadn't been such a slow shovel finder, accidents wouldn't have happened.
5. Don't be surprised if the patrols drink water from the Danube. The least clean water around is in the hotel pool (chemically tested!).
6. If you want to hear a joke, go see Elton. Or a baguette, or a sense of security.
7. If compliments are due, then it is to the Czech patrol Luňák! For a beautiful presentation of the anthem at the start and camp spirit.
